

The Herald -- One Cent

Shares With Public in the Return to Normalcy

Herald Quality Features

□ □ □

THREE WORLD-WIDE NEWS SERVICES

United Press and United News, with Hundreds of Correspondents in America and Every Foreign Country.
The Chicago Tribune's Internationally Famous News Service.
The Universal Service, Covering America and Europe.
The Herald's Own Wires to New York.
Best Reportorial Staff in Washington.

□ □ □

TEN EXCLUSIVE SPECIAL WRITERS

Sir Philip Gibbs, Frank H. Simonds, Mark Sullivan, William Allen White, Robert J. Bender, Arthur Sears Henning, Dorothy Dix, Grantland Rice, O. O. McIntyre, Lowell Mellett.

□ □ □

TWO PAGES—SPORTS—TWO PAGES

Every Major League Box Score and Complete Stories of Games.
Racing Charts and Bert Collyer's Turf Comment Daily.
"The Spotlight," Grantland Rice's Daily Column on Golf.
Robert Edgren's Exclusive Stories on Boxing.

□ □ □

FIRST IN FINANCIAL NEWS

Exclusive Financial News Service of the New York Evening Post.
Washington's Only Complete Record of New York Stock and Bond Markets.
All other Markets—Grain, Copper, Curb, Etc.—Accurately and Comprehensively Reported.
Authoritative discussions daily upon economic and trade conditions, by The Herald's Economist and Leading Writers on Business Subjects.

□ □ □

WASHINGTON'S SOCIETY PAGES

The Capital's Social Criterion—Edited by Evelyn C. Hunt.

□ □ □

EDITORIALS CHAMPION PUBLIC WELFARE

Vigorous, Constructive Opinion upon Current Affairs.

□ □ □

FICTION, FEATURES, CARTOONS, COMICS

America's Best Cartoons, by Jay Darling and John McCutcheon.
"Borrowed Husbands," the Delightful Daily Serial by Mildred Barbour.
Clare Brigg's Irresistible Comic Drawings Every Day.
McIntyre's Breezy Pen Pictures of New York.
"The Boys and Girls' Herald," the Youngsters' Paperette.

PLEDGING ample resources to maintain THE HERALD permanently as Washington's Brightest, Best Morning Paper, its Management today fixed its per-copy sales price at the pre-war level of

ONE CENT DAILY—Three Cents Sunday

Forty Cents a Month, by Carrier

The Herald recognizes the universal trend toward lower prices. Manufacturers, merchants and many labor groups have voluntarily accepted reduced revenues in a praiseworthy effort to stabilize conditions. The Herald proposes to do its share in the return to normalcy.

Its action is proof of its purpose. Its leadership in the production of a Superior Newspaper at One Cent accentuates the fact that---

THE HERALD is EVERYBODY'S PAPER

Such a paper can most ably render Public Service. And to that The Herald is dedicated.

Its aims are reflected in its clean, forward-looking policy—its accurate and complete presentment of news—its strength and sanity in editorial utterance. These have brought The Herald a remarkable and gratifying growth within the year—conclusive evidence that it has won the confidence of Washington.

The Herald treasures that confidence. To increasingly deserve it, this newspaper has set itself to a program of constant betterment and expansion.

The Herald's Resources, Abilities and Desires are the guarantees that its performance will measure up to its pledge.

The Washington Herald